Workshop on data-driven journalism

DW Akademie is planning a two-week workshop "Data-driven Journalism". The course is supported by Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH on behalf of Germany's Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ). Local project partners include Open Development Cambodia (ODC), Women's Media Centre of Cambodia (WMC), the Department of Media and Communication (DMC) at the Royal University of Phnom Penh, the Club of Cambodian Journalists and Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung (KAS), Cambodia Office.

The workshop will take place in Phnom Penh / Cambodia from January 20 – 31, 2014.

Participants will have an opportunity to

- get a practical introduction to data-driven journalism;
- learn how to use social media, publicly available data sources and digital data journalism tools professionally;
- find, filter and visualize data relevant to their reporting;
- employ data-journalism instruments to increase the impact of their journalistic or human rights work.

Applicants should fulfill the following requirements:

- Be a citizen of Cambodia;
- Work as a journalist, citizen journalist, IT- or social media specialist with 2 – 10 years of professional experience or be a journalism student or trainer;
- Show strong interest in data-driven journalism;
- Bring a lap-top or tablet computer;
- Have excellent knowledge of English. The workshop will be held in English.
